Local Builders Earns Factory Certification

Watertown, SD – May 14, 2010. Enercept, a manufacturer of structural insulated panels, certified Brent and Chris Vanrisseghem with Van's Construction in Swanville, MN as a Factory Trained Installation Specialists.

To earn this certification Enercept Builders and Dealers need to complete classroom studies and hands on SIPS construction training. While the 2½-day course focuses on the basics of SIPS wall and roof panel assembly there are also sessions on drafting, estimating and sales.

“Enercept is committed to our dealers and this program is critical to the development of a well trained dealer network.” Said Alan Case, President of Enercept.

This is the fourth year Enercept has hosted the training session. To attend Enercept University students must be, or be employed by, an Enercept Builder or Dealer.

Van's Construction became an Independent Dealer for Enercept earlier this year.
